Trait	Group 1 Score (approx.)	Group 2 Score (approx.)
Self-Reliance	85	65
Language	80	60
Logic	75	55
Attention to Detail	45	85
Abstract Thinking	55	90

The diagram shows four team members arranged in a 2x2 grid. Each member has a placeholder for a photo (a rounded rectangle) and their name and title below it. The members are: Omari Rush (Software Engineer), Deacon Moore (UX Designer), Aliya Charles (Web Designer), and Kamryn Joyce (SQL Developer).
